THE NEWS.

Our dispatches indicate so much excitement along the Maryland border that it is impossible to form any correct opinion as to the state of affairs there. In one dispatch we are assured that the rebel raid does not amount to much and that their troops do not exceed 5,000 men. Before the dispatch is put in type another rumor comes that the invading force is at least 30,000 strong. They don't seem to be doing much damage as yet, and if the raid serves to get out hundred day men from Pennsylvania, New York and other states proportional with what have been furnished by the Western States, it will have had one good effect.

General George P. Morris, one the sweetest song writers America has ever produced, died yesterday in New York, aged 62. He has been for many years associated with N. P. Willis in the editorial management of the Home Journal.

Hon. Josiah Quincy died on Friday last at his home near Boston, at the age of 93.

If any one can read of the insulting manner in which Captain Semmes of the pirate Alabama was taken from under the very guns of our conquering ship Kearsarge, and not get riled, he has a larger stock of the Christian virtue of patience on hand than we have. Why Captain Winslow didn't blow the British yacht into the middle of next week, is what we would like to know. He ought to be dismissed the service for half doing his duty. England is breeding a scab on her nose that will get knocked off one of these fine days.

A call has been issued for 5,000 men from Massachusetts to do garrison duty near Washington for 100 days.

We have meager news from Grant and nothing at all from Sherman.

Gold went kiting in New York to-day, reaching $2,70 as the highest. It was $2,60 in Milwaukee.

A FRENCHMAN has added to the common musket a revolving six-shooter, adjusted to the barrel four inches in advance of the trigger. With this improvement the soldier can, while charging bayonet, fire with his left hand, six charges into the enemy's ranks. Also, an Austrian artillery officer has invented a rifled cannon of two charges, which can fire sixteen balls in a minute. The secret of the invention is held by the Austrian Government.

LADIES PROCURING SUBSTITUTES.—On the list of subscribers to the Hancock recruiting fund are two ladies of New York. They paid down their $400 apiece, and, after the substitutes are obtained, the ladies will receive from the Provost Marshal's office the usual certificates that they are represented in the army, on the new plan adopted in the war department.

HON. JAMES T. BRADY, a distinguished Democratic lawyer and politician of New York, in a late speech said: "Much has been said, too, about usurpations of power; but where in history will you find a war against rebellion conducted with such moderation?" This is rather different from the usual copperhead outcry

—THE MILWAUKEE Wisconsin has increased its subscription rates to $10 a year to mail subscribers, and $12 to those in the city receiving it by carriers. Even at this rate a newspaper is less profitable than at the old prices before the war.

JEFFERSON DAVIS and his cabinet were sued in a French court by French traders, who owned a cargo of cotton which was burned by the rebels after it had passed to the merchants. The plaintiffs were defeated with costs.

FRANCIS C. SPENCER was hung at Thomaston, Me., on the 24th, for the murder of the warden of the State Prison in that place. This is the first execution that has occurred in Maine since 1832—a period of thirty-two years.

FORGED BONDS of the rebel loan have been forwarded from New York, it is said, and sold in London to the amount of about one hundred thousand dollars. They were resold to Holland at an advance.

IT IS reported that the rebel authorities have prohibited any more cotton burning, as the staple is necessary for blockade running purposes, and the purchase of supplies.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.—Mr. John Seymour's report contains many thrilling incidents. We extract the following which transpired on the battle-field of Gettysburg.

A rebel prisoner asked a clean shirt for his young comrade whose fresh, but blood-stained bandages, told of a recent amputation just above the knee.

One of the Sanitary Commission gave the shirt, but said the boy must first be washed. "Who will do that?" "Oh, any of those women yonder." A kind looking woman from Philadelphia was asked if she was willing to wash a rebel prisoner. "Certainly," was the prompt reply, "I have a son in the Union army, and I would like to have somebody wash him."

With towel and water in a tin basin she cheerfully walked through the mud to the tent. Careful not to disturb the amputated leg, she gently removed the old shirt and began to wash him; but the tenderness of a mother's heart was at work, and she began to cry over him, saying that she imagined she was washing her own son. This was more than he could bear. He, too, began to weep, and to ask God to bless her for her kindness to him. The scene was too much for the bystanders and they left the northern mother and the southern son to their sacred grief, wishing that tears could blot out the sin of this rebellion and the blood of this unnatural war.

STATE NEWS.

The Ripon Commonwealth mentions an extensive fire on the marshes about Green Lake, destroying 3,000 acres of valuable hay.——H. A. Taylor has withdrawn from the Hudson Times and is succeeded by Moses S. Gibson.——The Times says the farmers are sowing corn for fodder in that part of the country. Cattle are dying in St. Croix county, about the head-of Kinnic-Kinnic river, of some unknown disease. The Times says that Homer Rider of Hammond, has lost 11 head. The animal swells up and dies in a very short time after being taken.——The cranberry crop at the North is likely to be a failure. The Mauston Star says the marshes in that vicinity, have burned over, the fire running on the top of the ground.——The Kenosha Telegraph says L. Eastman, of Pleasant Prairie, who has some of the best sheep in the county, sheared over 23lbs. from one of his Spanish Merinos. H. A. Newbury, of Paris, sheared from 106 sheep 555 lbs. of clean wool—entirely free from tags, dirt or oil—and of the most excellent quality.——The Appleton Crescent says that at the recent commencement, the degree of LL.D. was conferred upon His Excellency James T. Lewis, Governor of Wis. This is the first time in the history of the University that this honor has been bestowed upon any one. It was a merited honor and will be worthily worn. There was much disappointment expressed because of the inability of the Governor to be present and deliver the address.—— The Fond du Lac Reporter says Mr. Hale of that city, has about one-fifth of an acre of strawberries, and he has picked from it this week over 20 bushels, and it is good for nearly as many more. His profit on the crop will be $200.——The Grand Rapids Pilot says Henry Clinton was shot on Tuesday evening, by a Frenchman by the name of Alex. Loseaux and expired on Friday night. The man Loseaux was promptly arrested and safely confined. Mr. Clinton is extensively known throughout the country as the working member of the firm of Edwards & Clinton, extensive lumberman, and his sudden death spreads a gloom over our entire people.——The Sheboygan Journal says in that county, winter and spring wheat, hay, oats, barley, corn, potatoes, &c., will be full an average crop.——The Alma Journal says that G. W. Gilkey, ex-U. S. Deputy Collector, for Buffalo county, is a defaulter to the Government, in the sum of $980.00. Mr. Gilkey's agent has, we believe, turned over property to the bondsmen to secure them in the matter, they being amply good to the Government for the amount in default.

To Friends of Temperance in Kansas.

The following report from the Kansas Bulletin, we copy as Mr. Goss is a resident of this county.

Having completed the tour of the State with the object of advancing the cause of temperance, I feel that it is no more than proper for me to make some statements upon its present condition in Kansas; also to mention some of the obstacles in the way of its success.

I have labored in the State for the last six months as an independent temperance lecturer; have traveled about two thousand miles; have given one hundred and forty public addresses; have organized sixty-five societies as branches of the State Temperance Society, embracing nearly all the towns and many of the rural districts of the State. This is the first direct public service given to this branch of reform since the settlement of Kansas, though in some localities organizations of one form and another have hitherto existed, and a few of which I found still in healthful operation.

But in consequence of the heavy draft which the war has made upon the temperance population, most of such organizations have necessarily suspended labor; for be it known that our best and bravest men now in the army are distinguished for sobriety, while intemperance and treason are the common enemies of mankind. In consequence of this drain upon the population and the unsettled condition of the State, I have failed personally to accomplish as much for the cause as I would have done under more favorable auspices. But notwithstanding the public mind has been measurably reached and corrected upon this question, the masses have heard me gladly and responded cheerfully, but those who have more readily listened to my lectures and co-operated with me were of a negative character—a class who for some years past had lost their first love, their early zeal, and needed more inspiration, a revival of faith in the moral grandeur of temperance, and in the fact of its final triumph. And this class I found very numerous in Kansas, a large share of whom were originally from New England, possessing a high-toned education, such as New England alone can give.

To arouse this class to newness of life, to a deeper devotion to temperance, has been my especial purpose. And I rejoice that something has been accomplished in this direction which I pray may prove permanent; for surely the success of the cause depends largely upon the energy of its friends—upon their employment of every rational means with which to beat back the tides of intemperance, making no compromise with the liquor power, no agreement with death, no covenant with hell.

But the main difficulty in the way of temperance success in Kansas is the lack of a hightoned temperance pulpit, press and politicians, many of which pander to public prejudice and liquor power, that certain darling designs may be attained. True, I find noble exceptions to this statement—some uncompromising pulpits, papers and politicians; and I feel to thank God that there are such in Kansas. I have not been blind to the fact, however, that in some localities temperance is measurably forgotten in the anxiety to secure sectarian power and popularity and partisan triumphs; practically, though unjustifiably, divorcing this blessed reform from Christian and political economy. These important departments of labor must meet with a radical and permanent change before this unholy traffic and its legal sanction shall terminate. When these agencies of the age shall come to the rescue and lift up the cause and give it character, will it find a deep and firm foundation among the masses. And on leaving the state for other fields of labor, I take this opportunity to express my warmest gratitude to the clergy, laity and citizens at large, who have extended to me personally great hospitality and kindness, and who have cheerfully co-operated with me in my efforts to improve the social and moral condition of the people. I shall, to the last of my life, retain fondest recollections of Kansas—of its brave men and noble women.

WM. J. GOSS.

SALTING HAY—It used to be the universal practice of eastern farmers to salt their hay when putting in mow or stack, especially if put up before thoroughly cured. But we notice that the practice is getting into disrepute among many of our most intelligent husbandmen. Daniel Kelly, of DuPage county, in our office a few days since, expressed an opinion highly adverse to the custom, alleging that it renders hay moist, and does not tend to its preservation in the least. We well know Mr. Kelly's hay to be of the finest quality, and he states that he always puts it up before dried in the sun, and he keeps salt away from it.

S. Edward Todd, a well known agricultural writer, expresses the same opinion in the last number of the Country Gentleman. It is now a proper time to talk over this matter of curing hay, as well as cutting, &c., for the season of haying will soon be at hand.—Prairie Farmer.

BEHIND TIME.—The morning passenger train of the Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien Road due here shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning, did not arrive until about 6, owing to the breakage of a locomotive on a freight train near Genesee, which delayed the passenger train.

CATARRH, THROAT DISEASES!

ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS!

Early Stages of Consumption!

LIVER COMPLAINTS,

Diseases of Women!

And all other Complaints that Lead to Consumption,

Are treated by DR. HALE, at the

Wisconsin Throat & Lung Institute,

Myers' Block, Janesville,

by a new method, and with remedies that are eminently successful in the above class of chronic diseases.

The thinking and unbiased portion of the community will appreciate the great advantage of a permanent and reliable Institute for the cure of chronic diseases that usually baffle the skill of the general practitioner.

Catarrh, that great promoting cause of Consumption in the Northwest, always gives way upon application of the new remedies. Dr. Hale has never encountered a case of this disease he could not cure. The present season is very favorable for applying proper remedies; delays are dangerous. Your case may be cured this month, not next, to-day, not to-morrow.

All who are suffering from any of the diseases Dr. Hale makes a speciality in treating, should at least call and investigate the new system for themselves. No person of good sense and sound judgment will, without full and careful investigation, denounce as "humbug" that which claims to possess merit.

Dr. Hale takes pleasure in referring to the following responsible parties, citizens of Janesville, who can speak knowingly as to the efficacy of Dr. Hale's treatment, not to mention hundreds of others in the Northwest that have been cured:

M. Schuyler, proprietor of the Schuyler House; De Witt Davis, N. G. Kenlston, D. R. Stout, F. J. Tupper Ellis Doty, job printer, J. D. Hayner, W. H. Mann, E R. Beckley, N. Howe, John Kerr, J. F. Drake, Wm. Hyzer, Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, Mrs. C. J. Cheney, Miss Hettie Shattuck, Miss N. Wiley.

The list could be extended to an indefinite length, but the above will suffice.

THE M. E. FESTIVAL.—The attendance at this festival yesterday evening was quite large, and the receipts handsome. The ice cream, which was of Mr. Thurston's manufacture, was particulary nice. The net proceeds to the Sunday School will be not far from $60.

REGULAR MEETING.—Members of Rescue Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 will meet at their rooms to-night at eight o'clock, when it is requested that every member will be prompt in attendance for drill, and the transaction of other business.

By order, R. GEDDES, Secretary.

THOMAS BURBECK will sell at the residence of Mr. Wm. Miller, on Wall street, on Saturday, the entire household furniture of that gentlemen. The goods are mostly new and in fine order and must be sold, as Mr. Miller is about to leave this State. Rare inducements will be offered to those in want of first class house keeping goods. d1d-jy7

A SPLENDID SHOWER.—After a day of intense heat, the windows of heaven were opened last night, and a most copious shower drenched the earth. For an hour or two there was one continuous glare of lightning, which with the deep mutter of the thunder made a scene of great sublimity. The water fairly poured down in torrents, and must have gone to the root of all vegetation. The rain was as welcome as it was abundant.

ASSAULT AND RESISTING AN OFFICER.—On the evening of the Fourth, a couple of men named John Reeves and John Devine were arrested, the first one for an assault and resisting an officer, and the last named, for aiding in the resistence. Reeves was fined $10 and costs for the assault, and both were held to bail in the sum of $200, this morning, in the police court, for their interference with officer Plato, in the discharge of his duty.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—John Normyer, a boy about nine years of age was run over by the cars at Clinton Junction, between six and seven o'clock, last evening, and died from the effects of his injuries this morning at one o'clock. He was hanging on to the ladder of a freight car and running along side of the same, and probably stumbled and fell under the car. Both of his legs were run over and badly broken. We hope this sad accident will be a timely warning to the boys of this city, particularly those who when they are up to the depot are in the habit of jumping on to the cars when in motion.

ALL FOR GETTING DRUNK.—As a young man, who seemed to be partially inebriated, was driving a horse attached to a lumber wagon, up Main street, last evening, he managed to lock wheels with a carriage and a buggy standing near together by the sidewalk. The wheel of the buggy was almost wrenched off and considerably damaged. After the mischief was done, the fellow attempted to drive off, but fell into the hands of the officers, and this morning had to appear before Justice Hudson and foot the bill. In the most favorable light, getting drunk is an expensive luxury, as the great record of crimes and follies chargable to that condition, most abundantly prove.

THE FOURTH IN "OLD ROCK."—While other counties in the State could only manage to get up one celebration within their limits on the glorious Fourth, and some counties none at all! "Old Rock" was patriotic enough to afford at least a half dozen of first rate ones, with speeches, music, banners, dinners, toasts, etc etc. At Milton they celebrated in good style; Governor Lewis and Secretary Fairchild did the talking. At Beloit the day was properly observed. At Porter they had a splendid 'splay, where Mr. Cassoday of this city made a most excellent address. At Evansville they had a rouser. In other towns they had pic-nics and observed the day in a less ostentatious manner.

The fires which our Revolutionary Fathers kindled in 1776, continue to burn with undiminished luster in "Old Rock."

G. C. Williams Esq., orated for the Jeffersonians at the anciently named village of Palmyra.

THE REBEL RAID.

BALTIMORE, July 6.—The Evening American has the following view of the situation: An intelligent gentleman arrived this morning from the vicinity of Harpers Ferry, and states that it is now definitely ascertained the whole force of the enemy does not exceed 5 000, of whom less than one fourth are cavalry, and the balance infantry. They are concentrating in and around Harpers Ferry, and are sending out parties to forage on people, robbing them of their watches and money.

In Mulligan's fight with the rebels, not a wagon fell into the enemy's hands and nothing was left behind at Martingburg, except some oats which were set on fire before he left. The impression when our informant left, was that the rebel force will retire before to-morrow night, as Hunter will be in their rear by that time with an ample force to overwhelm them if they remain longer. The principle object of this raid has proved unsuccessful unless it be the damage they have done to the railroad and canal, and the collection of conscripts and plunder of inhabitants. They have not attempted to leave the line of the Potomac, except to rob stores at Point of Rocks and destroyed several canal boats near Hancock. What damage has been done to the Railroad has not yet been ascertained, though it is understood they have not retired beyond Martinsburg.

There is no truth in the statement that a rebel force has been to Boonsboro and Hagerstown, or that a raid had been made on the Railroad west of Cumberland. Gen. Wallace is co-operating with Sigel and has secured the entire protection of the road as far as Fredrick, which is now safe.

PHILADELPHIA, July, 6.—A morning paper of this city contains some two columns of what purports to be special news from the lower portion of this state, but is generally considered as destitute of truth.

FOREIGN NEWS.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The officers and seamen of the Alabama captured by the Kearsage had been liberated on parole at Cherbourg.

A letter in the Paris Patrie states that Captain Semmes has announced that on the 15th of August he will again embark on a new Alabama, which will on that date be completed. The seamen of the old Alabama will continue to receive pay and form part of the crew of the new cruiser. Rumors point to the steamer Rappahannock, the ex-British war vessel, which stole away from Sheerness to Calais.

A committee headed by Admiral Ansen has been formed in London, to raise by guinea subscriptions a fund for the purchase of a handsome sword to replace that which Capt. Semmes sunk with his ship. It is reported that a considerable sum has also been raised in Liverpool for the same object.

The London Daily News publishes an account of the Kearsage and Alabama affair, correcting false statements in regard to the course pursued by the former. It charged that the Deerhound acted as a sort of tender to the Alabama; that Captain Winslow would have secured the whole of the officers and crew of the Alabama had he not placed too much confidence in the honor of the owner of the yacht; that he considered Captain Semmes and others who escaped bound in honor to give themselves up; and he did not pursue and fire on the Deerhound because he did not believe any one carrying off the royal yacht squadron would act so dishonorably.

The Daily News publishes a letter from Stoddard, master of the Kearsage, complaining that the Deerhound was the consort of the Alabama.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The call for State Militia has caused some excitement among the military of this city. Maj. Gen. Sanford has gone to Albany, at request of the Governor. Maj. Hamilton is momentarily in expectation of an order requiring the immediate departure of some of the city regiments for garrison duty. The 6th left this morning for the Harbor, in obedience to an order issued some days since.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Gen. Franklin passed quietly through this city last evening, on his way to the army of the Potomac. Though his leave of absence extends to the 30th of July, and his wound still troubles him, yet at the request of Gen. Grant he returns to duty. Gen. Franklin's friends in this city are making up a purse for the purpose of presenting him a sword.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, July, 6.—The 138th Illinois, hundred day men, have reached Ft. Leavenworth and will garrison the post and let the 15th Kansas volunteers go to the front.

The Kansas State Journal, published at Lawrence, is out against the re-election of Lincoln.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF CAPTAIN WINSLOW.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The Navy Department has received the following despatch:

U. S. STEAMER KEARSAGE, June 19th, 1864.—Sir, I have the honor to inform the Department that the day subsequent to the arrival of the Kersage at this port on the 14th inst., I received a note from Capt. Semmes, begging that the Kearsage would not depart, as he intended to fight her and would not delay her but a day or two. According to the notice, the Alabama left the port of Cherbourg this morning at about 9:30 A. M. At 10:20 A. M., we discovered her steering towards us. Fearing the question of Jurisdiction might arise, we steered to sea until a distance of 6 or 7 miles was obtained from the Cherbourg breakwater, when we rounded to and commenced steering for the Alabama. As we approached her within about 120 yards she opened fire and we received 2 or 3 broadsides before a shot was returned.

The action continued, the respective steamers making a circle round and round, at a distance of about 900 yards from each other. At the expiration of an hour the Alabama struck, going down in about twenty minutes afterwards and carrying many persons with her.

It affords me great gratification to announce that all did their duty, exhibiting a degree of coolness which gave promise at the out set of certain victory.

I have the honor to be, most respectfully, your obedient servant.

JOHN A. WINSLOW, Capt.
HON. GIDEON WELLS, Sec'y Navy.

THE REBEL RAID.

HARRISBURG, July 6.—Dispatches from Chambersburg state the rebel force, supposed to be Bradley Johnson's brigade, entered Hagerstown this afternoon. The federal force at that place, under Lieut. McLean, after a spirited resistance, were compelled to fall back on Green Castle, Pennsylvania, with which place we still had telegraph communication up to nine o'clock this evening.

The Tribune's special from Baltimore 6th, at 10 A. M., says that the Baltimore railroad has just received intelligence from the Sandy Hook opperator at Harpers Ferry. No enemy is in that vicinity, they having skedaddled up the valley and will hardly escape capture by Hunter. The Tribune's special from Monocacy 6th says Gen. Lew Wallace, Tyler and Howe, are here preparing for an emergency from near Frederick, to-day's special reports the whole rebel force at four thousand.

The Tribune's Harrisburg special of the 6th says, official information received here shows that Grant has notified the War Department that a large portion of the rebel army has left his immediate front, and that a large portion of Hunter's force has reached Parkersburg on their way east, his advance will reach Cumberland to-morrow morning.

The World's Washington special says that notwithstanding the wild reports, it is believed the rebels burned only one important bridge west of Harper's Ferry at Patterson's creek.

Gov. Curtin telegraphs that 20,000 rebels crossed the Potomac at the Point of Rocks, when trains from here have run to and beyond that point.

The Star says Hunter has joined Sigel and will make short work of the raid.

FROM HARRISBURG.

HARRISBURG, July 6th.—The following proclamation has just been issued by the Governor:

It is now ascertained that a large rebel force has been detached from Richmond and is advancing on North. So large a portion of our army is at remote points that it becomes necessary to raise, immediately, a sufficient force to repel them. They are already within the borders of the commonwealth. You have always heretofore been ready to answer the call of your country. You will not be less ready to come forward when our homes and firesides are to be defended against profligate hordes of plunderers. The law authorized by the President of the United States to call for 1,200 in addition to those required by my proclamation, to serve for one hundred days in Washington and vicinity. I appeal to the freemen of Pennsylvania, to rouse themselves for necessary efforts and come promptly and sweep invaders from her soil, I do most earnestly request good and loyal men of the commonwealth, and especially veteran soldiers in all her borders to show themselves worthy of her in this emergency. Her sons have established for themselves on many bloody fields, a reputation for martial virtues which they will not now forfeit, when both their well earned fame and the safety of their homes and families are at stake.

ELI. SLIFER.
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

FROM WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The World has information from the front stating Wilson's losses have been greatly exaggerated, four of his guns have been recaptured from the enemy.

Notwithstanding the rebel raid into Maryland and distrust in state affairs as shown by commercial men in the high price of gold, there is reason to believe favorable military news will soon be made known to the public. Measures have been taken to guard Pennsylvania, and it is believed that the rebels have not been in sufficient force to any material damage. Very good news are expected from Sherman—nothing less in fact than the capture of Atlanta. Military men here say that with the loss of Kenesaw mountain, the rebels cannot reasonably hope to hold Atlanta, as there are no positions beyond Chattahoochie at all equal to those this side of it.

Good news is also shortly expected from Grant's army. It is believed Petersburg will shortly be in our hands. It is well understood that nothing the rebels can do by way of Shenandoah Valley will induce Grant to send any portion of his army to the defence of Washington. Movements are now under way to largely reinforce Grant's army by veteran troops from points of less importance than Richmond.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

NEW YORK July, 7.—The Herald's 18th army corps correspondent says to-day witnessed one of the most exciting artillery battles of the war. After two hours cannonading the rebel batteries were completely silenced and the gunners driven from their places.

At 3 p. m., the rebels opened again furiously and we saw the enemy's line and works were enveloped in one continuous cloud of dust by our shells. The rebel gunners could be seen running to the rear for places of safety. After two hours fighting every rebel battery was silenced. Our batteries had been place with great skill and care, so that at any moment they can be concentrated on any given point. Our bombardment of the city is steadily doing its work, several buildings have already been destroyed.

The Tribune's Washington special says Petersburg is now covered by over 100 of our guns, and were Grant to give the word, its destruction would be the work of but a few hours.

A private letter from Ben. Butler's army says the rebel officers are sent to comfortable quarters, where rebel shells most do fall.

It is thought the suspension of the writ of habes corpus and martial law, in Kentucky, will occasion trouble in enforcing the draft and particularly in the enlistment of slaves.

FROM TEXAS.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The Tribune's correspondent off Texas says the Granite City was captured by the rebels only after the most persistent defense. The pilot and boat's crew of the New London were captured. Our killed and wounded will amount to about 30, and that of the rebels about twenty.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

4 O'clock P. M.

THE REBEL RAID.

BALTIMORE, July 7.—The city is full of rumors. The following is believed correct: Intelligence from Maryland Heights and the region beyond, warrants the belief that the rebel force now on this side of the Potomac and on the line of the Virginia side, is not less than 30,000.

Advices from Sandy Hook up to 10 this morning says that skirmishing was going on back of the heights, but the number of rebels there is small. Rebels can be seen towards Sharpsburg driving off cattle, horses, and plundering farmers in the valley. No large force is visible.

Advices from Green Castle, Pa., this forenoon say the rebels occupy Hagerstown but their force is not known. While in Middletown yesterday the rebels plundered the people of their horses and other property. The railroad is still unobstructed as far as Sandy Hook opposite Harper's Ferry, and it is believed there is only a small rebel force on the Virginia shore opposite the Point of Rocks.

LATER.—The rebels in Harper's Ferry have destroyed all the railroad property, telegraph and ticket office, and burned a large quantity of forage.

FROM BANGOR, ME.

BANGOR, Me., July 7.—A portion of the State Guard left this morning to garrison Fort McCleary. Among the privates was Vice-President Hamlin.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 6.—A steamer arrived this morning from Bermuda Hundreds. Nothing new from the front—no battle yet.

SODA WATER.—Cold, sparkling and delicious! at the Philadelphia Drug Store.

THE NEWS.

Our dispatches indicate so much excitement along the Maryland border that it is impossible to form any correct opinion as to the state of affairs there. In one dispatch we are assured that the rebel raid does not amount to much and that their troops do not exceed 5,000 men. Before the dispatch is put in type another rumor comes that the invading force is at least 30,000 strong. They don't seem to be doing much damage as yet, and if the raid serves to get out hundred day men from Pennsylvania, New York and other states proportional with what have been furnished by the Western States, it will have had one good effect.

General George P. Morris, one the sweetest song writers America has ever produced, died yesterday in New York, aged 62. He has been for many years associated with N. P. Willis in the editorial management of the Home Journal.

Hon. Josiah Quincy died on Friday last at his home near Boston, at the age of 93.

If any one can read of the insulting manner in which Captain Sommes of the pirate Alabama was taken from under the very guns of our conquering ship Kearsage, and not get riled, he has a larger stock of the Christian virtue of patience on hand than we have. Why Captain Winslow didn't blow the British yacht into the middle of next week, is what we would like to know. He ought to be dismissed the service for half doing his duty. England is breeding a scab on her nose that will get knocked off one of these fine days.

A call has been issued for 5,000 men from Massachusetts to do garrison duty near Washington for 100 days.

We have meager news from Grant and nothing at all from Sherman.

Gold went kiting in New York to-day, reaching $2,70 as the highest. It was $2,60 in Milwaukee.

A Frenchman has added to the common musket a revolving six-shooter, adjusted to the barrel four inches in advance of the trigger. With this improvement the soldier can, while charging bayonet, fire with his left hand, six charges into the enemy's ranks. Also, an Austrian artillery officer has invented a rifled cannon of two charges, which can fire sixteen balls in a minute. The secret of the invention is held by the Austrian Government.

Ladies Procuring Substitutes.—On the list of subscribers to the Hancock recruiting fund are two ladies of New York. They paid down their $400 apiece, and, after the substitutes are obtained, the ladies will receive from the Provost Marshal's office the usual certificates that they are represented in the army, on the new plan adopted in the war department.

---

Hon. James T. Brady, a distinguished Democratic lawyer and politician of New York, in a late speech said: "Much has been said, too, about usurpations of power; but where in history will you find a war against rebellion conducted with such moderation?" This is rather different from the usual copperhead outcry

---

—The Milwaukee Wisconsin has increased its subscription rates to $10 a year to mail subscribers, and $12 to those in the city receiving it by carriers. Even at this rate a newspaper is less profitable than at the old prices before the war.

---

Jefferson Davis and his cabinet were sued in a French court by French traders, who owned a cargo of cotton which was burned by the rebels after it had passed to the merchants. The plaintiffs were defeated with costs.

---

Francis C. Spencer was hung at Thomaston, Me., on the 24th, for the murder of the warden of the State Prison in that place. This is the first execution that has occurred in Maine since 1832—a period of thirty-two years.

---

Forged bonds of the rebel loan have been forwarded from New York, it is said, and sold in London to the amount of about one hundred thousand dollars. They were resold to Holland at an advance.

---

It is reported that the rebel authorities have prohibited any more cotton burning, as the staple is necessary for blockade running purposes, and the purchase of supplies.

---

A Touching Incident.—Mr. John Seymour's report contains many thrilling incidents. We extract the following which transpired on the battle-field of Gettysburg.

A rebel prisoner asked a clean shirt for his young comrade whose fresh, but blood-stained bandages, told of a recent amputation just above the knee.

One of the Sanitary Commission gave the shirt, but said the boy must first be washed. "Who will do that?" "Oh, any of those women yonder." A kind looking woman from Philadelphia was asked if she was willing to wash a rebel prisoner. "Certainly," was the prompt reply, "I have a son in the Union army, and I would like to have somebody wash him."

With towel and water in a tin basin she cheerfully walked through the mud to the tent. Careful not to disturb the amputated leg, she gently removed the old shirt and began to wash him; but the tenderness of a mother's heart was at work, and she began to cry over him, saying that she imagined she was washing her own son. This was more than he could bear. He, too, began to weep, and to ask God to bless her for her kindness to him. The scene was too much for the bystanders and they left the northern mother and the southern son to their sacred grief, wishing that tears could blot out the sin of this rebellion and the blood of this unnatural war.

The Ripon Commonwealth mentions an extensive fire on the marshes about Green Lake, destroying 3,000 acres of valuable hay.——H. A. Taylor has withdrawn from the Hudson Times and is succeeded by Moses S. Gibson.——The Times says the farmers are sowing corn for fodder in that part of the country. Cattle are dying in St. Croix county, about the head-of Kinnie-Kinnie river, of some unknown disease. The Times says that Homer Rider of Hammond, has lost 11 head. The animal swells up and dies in a very short time after being taken.——The cranberry crop at the North is likely to be a failure. The Mauston Star says the marshes in that vicinity, have burned over, the fire running on the top of the ground.——The Kenosha Telegraph says L. Eastman, of Pleasant Prairie, who has some of the best sheep in the county, sheared over 23lbs. from one of his Spanish Merinos. H. A. Newbury, of Paris, sheared from 106 sheep 555 lbs. of clean wool—entirely free from tags, dirt or oil—and of the most excellent quality.——The Appleton Crescent says that at the recent commencement, the degree of LL.D. was conferred upon His Excellency James T. Lewis, Governor of Wis. This is the first time in the history of the University that this honor has been bestowed upon any one. It was a merited honor and will be worthily worn. There was much disappointment expressed because of the inability of the Governor to be present and deliver the address.——The Fon du Lac Reporter says Mr. Hale of that city, has about one-fifth of an acre of strawberries, and he has picked from it this week over 20 bushels, and it is good for nearly as many more. His profit on the crop will be $200.——The Grand Rapids Pilot says Henry Clinton was shot on Tuesday evening, by a Frenchman by the name of Alex. Loseaux and expired on Friday night. The man Loseaux was promptly arrested and safely confined. Mr. Clinton is extensively known throughout the country as the working member of the firm of Edwards & Clinton, extensive lumberman, and his sudden death spreads a gloom over our entire people.——The Sheboygan Journal says in that county, winter and spring wheat, hay, oats, barley, corn, potatoes, &c., will be full an average crop.——The Alma Journal says that G. W. Gilkey, ex-U. S. Deputy Collector, for Buffalo county, is a defaulter to the Government, in the sum of $930.00. Mr. Gilkey's agent has, we believe, turned over property to the bondsmen to secure them in the matter, they being amply good to the Government for the amount in default.

To Friends of Temperance in Kansas.

The following report from the Kansas Bulletin, we copy as Mr. Goss is a resident of this county.

Having completed the tour of the State with the object of advancing the cause of temperance, I feel that it is no more than proper for me to make some statements upon its present condition in Kansas; also to mention some of the obstacles in the way of its success.

I have labored in the State for the last six months as an independent temperance lecturer; have traveled about two thousand miles; have given one hundred and forty public addresses; have organized sixty-five societies as branches of the State Temperance Society, embracing nearly all the towns and many of the rural districts of the State. This is the first direct public service given to this branch of reform since the settlement of Kansas, though in some localities organizations of one form and another have hitherto existed, and a few of which I found still in healthful operation.

But in consequence of the heavy draft which the war has made upon the temperance population, most of such organizations have necessarily suspended labor; for be it known that our best and bravest men now in the army are distinguished for sobriety, while intemperance and treason are the common enemies of mankind. In consequence of this drain upon the population and the unsettled condition of the State, I have failed personally to accomplish as much for the cause as I would have done under more favorable auspices. But notwithstanding the public mind has been measurably reached and corrected upon this question, the masses have heard me gladly and responded cheerfully, but those who have more readily listened to my lectures and co-operated with me were of a negative character—a class who for some years past had lost their first love, their early zeal, and needed more inspiration, a revival of faith in the moral grandeur of temperance, and in the fact of its final triumph. And this class I found very numerous in Kansas, a large share of whom were originally from New England, possessing a high-toned education, such as New England alone can give.

To arouse this class to newness of life, to a deeper devotion to temperance, has been my especial purpose. And I rejoice that something has been accomplished in this direction which I pray may prove permanent; for surely the success of the cause depends largely upon the energy of its friends—upon their employment of every rational means with which to beat back the tides of intemperance, making no compromise with the liquor power, no agreement with death, no covenant with hell.

But the main difficulty in the way of temperance success in Kansas is the lack of a high-toned temperance pulpit, press and politicians, many of which pander to public prejudice and liquor power, that certain darling designs may be attained. True, I find noble exceptions to this statement—some uncompromising pulpits, papers and politicians; and I feel to thank God that there are such in Kansas. I have not been blind to the fact, however, that in some localities temperance is measurably forgotten in the anxiety to secure sectarian power and popularity and partisan triumphs; practically, though unjustifiably, divorcing this blessed reform from Christian and political economy. These important departments of labor must meet with a radical and permanent change before this unholy traffic and its legal sanction shall terminate. When these agencies of the age shall come to the rescue and lift up the cause and give it character, will it find a deep and firm foundation among the masses. And on leaving the state for other fields of labor, I take this opportunity to express my warmest gratitude to the clergy, laity and citizens at large, who have extended to me personally great hospitality and kindness, and who have cheerfully co-operated with me in my efforts to improve the social and moral condition of the people. I shall, to the last of my life, retain fondest recollections of Kansas—of its brave men and noble women.

Salting Hay—It used to be the universal practice of eastern farmers to salt their hay when putting in mow or stack, especially if put up before thoroughly cured. But we notice that the practice is getting into disrepute among many of our most intelligent husbandmen. Daniel Kelly, of DuPage county, in our office a few days since, expressed an opinion highly adverse to the custom, alleging that it renders hay moist, and does not tend to its preservation in the least. We well know Mr. Kelly's hay to be of the finest quality, and he states that he always puts it up before dried in the sun, and he keeps salt away from it.

S. Edward Todd, a well known agricultural writer, expresses the same opinion in the last number of the Country Gentleman. It is now a proper time to talk over this matter of curing hay, as well as cutting, &c., for the season of haying will soon be at hand.—Prairie Farmer.

Behind Time.—The morning passenger train of the Milwaukee & Prairie du Chien Road due here shortly after 2 o'clock in the morning, did not arrive until about 6, owing to the breakage of a locomotive on a freight train near Genesee, which delayed the passenger train.

CATARRH, THROAT DISEASES!

ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS!

Early Stages of Consumption!

LIVER COMPLAINTS,

Diseases of Women!

And all other Complaints that Lead to Consumption,

Are treated by DR. HALE, at the

Wisconsin Throat & Lung Institute,

Myers' Block, Janesville,

by a new method, and with remedies that are eminently successful in the above class of chronic diseases.

The thinking and unbiased portion of the community will appreciate the great advantage of a permanent and reliable Institute for the cure of chronic diseases that usually baffle the skill of the general practitioner.

Catarrh, that great promoting cause of Consumption in the Northwest, always gives way upon application of the new remedies. Dr. Hale has never encountered a case of this disease he could not cure. The present season is very favorable for applying proper remedies; delays are dangerous. Your case may be cured this month, not next, to-day, not to-morrow.

All who are suffering from any of the diseases Dr. Hale makes a speciality in treating, should at least call and investigate the new system for themselves. No person of good sense and sound judgment will, without full and careful investigation, denounce as "humbug" that which claims to possess merit.

Dr. Hale takes pleasure in referring to the following responsible parties, citizens of Janesville, who can speak knowingly as to the efficacy of Dr. Hale's treatment, not to mention hundreds of others in the Northwest that have been cured:

M. Schuyler, proprietor of the Schuyler House; De Witt Davis, job printer, J. D. Haynes, W. H. Mann, E. R. Beckley, N. Rowe, John Kerr, J. F. Drake, Wm. Hyzer, Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, Mrs. C. J. Cheney, Miss Belle Shattuck, Miss N. Wiley.

The list could be extended to an indefinite length, but the above will suffice.

A Splendid Shower.—After a day of intense heat, the windows of heaven were opened last night, and a most copious shower drenched the earth. For an hour or two there was one continuous glare of lightning, which with the deep mutter of the thunder made a scene of great sublimity. The water fairly poured down in torrents, and must have gone to the root of all vegetation. The rain was as welcome as it was abundant.

Assault and Resisting an Officer.—On the evening of the Fourth, a couple of men named John Reeves and John Devine were arrested, the first one for an assault and resisting an officer, and the last named, for aiding in the resistence. Reeves was fined $10 and costs for the assault, and both were held to bail in the sum of $200, this morning, in the police court, for their interference with officer Plato, in the discharge of his duty.

Fatal Accident.—John Normyer, a boy about nine years of age was run over by the cars at Clinton Junction, between six and seven o'clock, last evening, and died from the effects of his injuries this morning at one o'clock. He was hanging on to the ladder of a freight car and running along side of the same, and probably stumbled and fell under the car. Both of his legs were run over and badly broken. We hope this sad accident will be a timely warning to the boys of this city, particularly those who when they are up to the depot are in the habit of jumping on to the cars when in motion.

All for Getting Drunk.—As a young man, who seemed to be partially inebriated, was driving a horse attached to a lumber wagon, up Main street, last evening, he managed to lock wheels with a carriage and a buggy standing near together by the sidewalk. The wheel of the buggy was almost wrenched off and considerably damaged. After the mischief was done, the fellow attempted to drive off, but fell into the hands of the officers, and this morning had to appear before Justice Hudson and foot the bill. In the most favorable light, getting drunk is an expensive luxury, as the great record of crimes and follies chargable to that condition, most abundantly prove.

The Fourth in "Old Rock."—While other counties in the State could only manage to get up one celebration within their limits on the glorious Fourth, and some counties none at all! "Old Rock" was patriotic enough to afford at least a half dozen of first rate ones, with speeches, music, banners, dinners, toasts, etc etc. At Milton they celebrated in good style; Governor Lewis and Secretary Fairchild did the talking. At Beloit the day was properly observed. At Porter they had a splendid 'splay, where Mr. Cassoday of this city made a most excellent address. At Evansville they had a rouser. In other towns they had pic-nics and observed the day in a less ostentatious manner.

The fires which our Revolutionary Fathers kindled in 1776, continue to burn with undiminished luster in "Old Rock."

THE REBEL RAID.

Baltimore, July 6.—The Evening American has the following view of the situation: An intelligent gentleman arrived this morning from the vicinity of Harpers Ferry, and states that it is now definitely ascertained the whole force of the enemy does not exceed 5 000, of whom less than one fourth are cavalry, and the balance infantry. They are concentrating in and around Harpers Ferry, and are sending out parties to forage on people, robbing them of their watches and money.

In Mulligan's fight with the rebels, not a wagon fell into the enemy's hands and nothing was left behind at Martingburg, except some oats which were set on fire before he left. The impression when our informant left, was that the rebel force will retire before to-morrow night, as Hunter will be in their rear by that time with an ample force to overwhelm them if they remain longer. The principle object of this raid has proved unsuccessful unless it be the damage they have done to the railroad and canal, and the collection of conscripts and plunder of inhabitants. They have not attempted to leave the line of the Potomac, except to rob stores at Point of Rocks and destroyed several canal boats near Hancock. What damage has been done to the Railroad has not yet been ascertained, though it is understood they have not retired beyond Martinsburg.

There is no truth in the statement that a rebel force has been to Boonsboro and Hagerstown, or that a raid had been made on the Railroad west of Cumberland. Gen. Wallace is co-operating with Sigel and has secured the entire protection of the road as far as Fredrick, which is now safe.

Philadelphia, July, 6.—A morning paper of this city contains some two columns of what purports to be special news from the lower portion of this state, but is generally considered as destitute of truth.

FOREIGN NEWS.

New York, July 6.—The officers and seamen of the Alabama captured by the Kearsage had been liberated on parole at Cherbourg.

A letter in the Paris Patrie states that Captain Semmes has announced that on the 15th of August he will again embark on a new Alabama, which will on that date be completed. The seamen of the old Alabama will continue to receive pay and form part of the crew of the new cruiser. Rumors point to the steamer Rappahannock, the ex-British war vessel, which stole away from Sheerness to Calais.

A committee headed by Admiral Ansen has been formed in London, to raise by guinea subscriptions a fund for the purchase of a handsome sword to replace that which Capt. Semmes sunk with his ship. It is reported that a considerable sum has also been raised in Liverpool for the same object.

The London Daily News publishes an account of the Kearsage and Alabama affair, correcting false statements in regard to the course pursued by the former. It charged that the Deerhound acted as a sort of tender to the Alabama; that Captain Winslow would have secured the whole of the officers and crew of the Alabama had he not placed too much confidence in the honor of the owner of the yacht; that he considered Captain Semmes and others who escaped bound in honor to give themselves up; and he did not pursue and fire on the Deerhound because he did not believe any one carrying off the royal yacht squadron would act so dishonorably.

The Daily News publishes a letter from Stoddard, master of the Kearsage, complaining that the Deerhound was the consort of the Alabama.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, July 6.—The call for State Militia has caused some excitement among the military of this city. Maj. Gen. Sanford has gone to Albany, at request of the Governor. Maj. Hamilton is momentarily in expectation of an order requiring the immediate departure of some of the city regiments for garrison duty. The 6th left this morning for the Harbor, in obedience to an order issued some days since.

New York, July 6.—Gen. Franklin passed quietly through this city last evening, on his way to the army of the Potomac. Though his leave of absence extends to the 30th of July, and his wound still troubles him, yet at the request of Gen. Grant he returns to duty. Gen. Franklin's friends in this city are making up a purse for the purpose of presenting him a sword.

FROM ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, July, 6.—The 138th Illinois, hundred day men, have reached Ft. Leavenworth and will garrison the post and let the 15th Kansas volunteers go to the front.

The Kansas State Journal, published at Lawrence, is out against the re-election of Lincoln.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF CAPTAIN WINSLOW.

Washington, July 6.—The Navy Department has received the following despatch:

U. S. Steamer Kearsage, June 19th, 1864.—Sir, I have the honor to inform the Department that the day subsequent to the arrival of the Kersage at this port on the 14th inst., I received a note from Capt. Semmes, begging that the Kearsage would not depart, as he intended to fight her and would not delay her but a day or two. According to the notice, the Alabama left the port of Cherbourg this morning at about 9:30 A. M. At 10:20 A. M., we discovered her steering towards us. Fearing the question of Jurisdiction might arise, we steered to sea until a distance of 6 or 7 miles was obtained from the Cherbourg breakwater, when we rounded to and commenced steering for the Alabama. As we approached her within about 120 yards she opened fire and we received 2 or 3 broadsides before a shot was returned.

The action continued, the respective steamers making a circle round and round, at a distance of about 900 yards from each other. At the expiration of an hour the Alabama struck, going down in about twenty minutes afterwards and carrying many persons with her.

It affords me great gratification to announce that all did their duty, exhibiting a degree of coolness which gave promise at the outset of certain victory.

I have the honor to be, most respectfully, your obedient servant.

JOHN A. WINSLOW, Capt.

Hon. Gideon Wells, Sec'y Navy.

THE REBEL RAID.

Harrisburg, July 6.—Dispatches from Chambersburg state the rebel force, supposed to be Bradley Johnson's brigade, entered Hagerstown this afternoon. The federal force at that place, under Lieut. McLean, after a spirited resistance, were compelled to fall back on Green Castle, Pennsylvania, with which place we still had telegraph communication up to nine o'clock this evening.

The Tribune's special from Baltimore 6th, at 10 A. M., says that the Baltimore railroad has just received intelligence from the Sandy Hook opperator at Harpers Ferry. No enemy is in that vicinity, they having skedadled up the valley and will hardly escape capture by Hunter. The Tribune's special from Monocacy 6th says Gen. Lew Wallace, Tyler and Howe, are here preparing for an emergency from near Frederick, to-day's special reports the whole rebel force at four thousand.

The Tribune's Harrisburg special of the 6th says, official information received here shows that Grant has notified the War Department that a large portion of the rebel army has left his immediate front, and that a large portion of Hunter's force has reached Parkersburg on their way east, his advance will reach Cumberland to-morrow morning.

The World's Washington special says that notwithstanding the wild reports, it is believed the rebels burned only one important bridge west of Harper's Ferry at Patterson's creek.

Gov. Curtin telegraphs that 20,000 rebels crossed the Potomac at the Point of Rocks, when trains from here have run to and beyond that point.

The Star says Hunter has joined Sigel and will make short work of the raid.

FROM HARRISBURG.

Harrisburg, July 6th.—The following proclamation has just been issued by the Governor:

It is now ascertained that a large rebel force has been detached from Richmond and is advancing on North. So large a portion of our army is at remote points that it becomes necessary to raise, immediately, a sufficient force to repel them. They are already within the borders of the commonwealth. You have always heretofore been ready to answer the call of your country. You will not be less ready to come forward when our homes and firesides are to be defended against profligate hordes of plunderers. The law authorized by the President of the United States to call for 1,200 in addition to those required by my proclamation, to serve for one hundred days in Washington and vicinity. I appeal to the freemen of Pennsylvania, to rouse themselves for necessary efforts and come promptly and sweep invaders from her soil, I do most earnestly request good and loyal men of the commonwealth, and especially veteran soldiers in all her borders to show themselves worthy of her in this emergency. Her sons have established for themselves on many bloody fields, a reputation for martial virtues which they will not now forfeit, when both their well earned fame and the safety of their homes and families are at stake.

Eli. Slifer.
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

FROM WASHINGTON.

New York, July 7.—The World has information from the front stating Wilson's losses have been greatly exaggerated, four of his guns have been recaptured from the enemy.

Notwithstanding the rebel raid into Maryland and distrust in state affairs as shown by commercial men in the high price of gold, there is reason to believe favorable military news will soon be made known to the public. Measures have been taken to guard Pennsylvania, and it is believed that the rebels have not been in sufficient force to any material damage. Very good news are expected from Sherman—nothing less in fact than the capture of Atlanta. Military men here say that with the loss of Kenesaw mountain, the rebels cannot reasonably hope to hold Atlanta, as there are no positions beyond Chattahoochie at all equal to those this side of it.

Good news is also shortly expected from Grant's army. It is believed Petersburg will shortly be in our hands. It is well understood that nothing the rebels can do by way of Shenandoah Valley will induce Grant to send any portion of his army to the defence of Washington. Movements are now under way to largely reinforce Grant's army by veteran troops from points of less importance than Richmond.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

New York July, 7.—The Herald's 18th army corps correspondent says to-day witnessed one of the most exciting artillery battles of the war. After two hours cannonading the rebel batteries were completely silenced and the gunners driven from their places.

At 3 p. m., the rebels opened again furiously and we saw the enemy's line and works were enveloped in one continuous cloud of dust by our shells. The rebel gunners could be seen running to the rear for places of safety. After two hours fighting every rebel battery was silenced. Our batteries had been place with great skill and care, so that at any moment they can be concentrated on any given point. Our bombardment of the city is steadily doing its work, several buildings have already been destroyed.

The Tribune's Washington special says Petersburg is now covered by over 100 of our guns, and were Grant to give the word, its destruction would be the work of but a few hours.

A private letter from Ben. Butler's army says the rebel officers are sent to comfortable quarters, where rebel shells most do fall.

It is thought the suspension of the writ of habes corpus and martial law, in Kentucky, will occasion trouble in enforcing the draft and particularly in the enlistment of slaves.

FROM TEXAS.

New York, July 9.—The Tribune's correspondent off Texas says the Granite City was captured by the rebels only after the most persistent defense. The pilot and boat's crew of the New London were captured. Our killed and wounded will amount to about 30, and that of the rebels about twenty.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

4 O'clock P. M.

THE REBEL RAID.

Baltimore, July 7.—The city is full of rumors. The following is believed correct: Intelligence from Maryland Heights and the region beyond, warrants the belief that the rebel force now on this side of the Potomac and on the line of the Virginia side, is not less than 30,000.

Advices from Sandy Hook up to 10 this morning says that skirmishing was going on back of the heights, but the number of rebels there is small. Rebels can be seen towards Sharpsburg driving off cattle, horses, and plundering farmers in the valley. No large force is visible.

Advices from Green Castle, Pa., this forenoon say the rebels occupy Hagerstown but their force is not known. While in Middletown yesterday the rebels plundered the people of their horses and other property. The railroad is still unobstructed as far as Sandy Hook opposite Harper's Ferry, and it is believed there is only a small rebel force on the Virginia shore opposite the Point of Rocks.

Later.—The rebels in Harper's Ferry have destroyed all the railroad property, telegraph and ticket office, and burned a large quantity of forage.

FROM BANGOR, ME.

Bangor, Me., July 7.—A portion of the State Guard left this morning to garrison Fort McCleary. Among the privates was Vice-President Hamlin.

Fortress Monroe, July 6.—A steamer arrived this morning from Bermuda Hundreds. Nothing new from the front—no battle yet.

The Alabama.

Our dispatches yesterday gave some further details of the sinking of the pirate Alabama, and the rascally conduct of her English bottle holders who enabled the captain to escape being made a prisoner of war by our victorious Kearsage. The manner in which the thing was done is not at all soothing to American nerves, and very much needs, as it will doubtless receive, the attention of the diplomatic pen of Secretary Seward. There is no doubt as to the intention of the English yacht Deerhound. She was crowded with the boon companions of the pirate, Semmes, who had invited them to go out and see the fun of sinking the Kearsage; or, if any thing should happen not exactly set down in their programme, then the crew of the Alabama might be furnished a way of escape. A dinner was prepared in Southampton for Semmes, at which a large amount of secession conviviality would have been let off by the rebels and their English sympathisers, if their pretty little project of sinking the Federal Sloop hadn't miscarried. But Captain Winslow varied the entertainment a little, from that originally set down in the bills, and instead of going to the bottom himself, he determined to send the Alabama there, though the disappointment of our neutral cousins should be great and the dinner at Southampton should be cold and not eaten. The Kearsage is only a third rate sloop-of-war, propelled by a screw and carrying but eight guns; so the morning's sport to which these young bloods were invited did not promise (as they thought) to be of very long duration. It lasted long enough, however, to see their favorite ship go to the bottom and her captain escape through their timely intervention. And when we remember that the Alabama was an English built ship, and her crew consisted mostly of English men, we can imagine the chargin and mortification which Johnny Bull must naturally feel at the result.

As for the escaped captain of the Alabama, he promises to be at sea again in a few months with a swifter and better vessel than the one just lost, to burn our ships and prey upon our commerce. He probably expects that the same honest neutrality which subscribes liberal sums in Liverpool and London to purchase him a sword, will also furnish him with a ship and her armament.

In the meantime, we will continue to furnish a home for English paupers, and send ship loads of provisions to keep from perishing the starving operatives of Manchester!

Forney's Farewell with Breckenridge.

Mr. Forney of the Philadelphia Press, thus speaks of his last interview with John C. Breckenridge:—

It was on the evening of the 6th of August, 1861, being the last day of the memorable called session which was assembled on the 4th of July of that year, by Presidental proclamation. Widely as we had differed, our personal relations were unchanged. He knew how sincerely grieved I was when, as early as 1858, he allowed Mr. Buchanan and the extreme South to force him into the support of Lecompton, and how reluctantly in the black and bitter years that succeeded, I felt constrained to denounce him. In the called session he had led the opposition to Mr. Lincoln with vehement, unjust and unsparing ability. And now he was going to Kentucky. "Good bye," he said; "Good bye," "No," I said, "not Good bye, Breckenridge, but farewell. You will never again take your seat in the United States Senate." He seemed to be surprised, as he said: "What do you mean? I will undoubtedly return to my post in December." "No, my dear sir, you will follow your doctrine into the Confederate army; you will go there to show that you are with the enemies of your country." To which he answered, and when he spoke the words I think he was honest: "If I go over the lines it will be to bring back with me my runaway son, Cabell, who has gone into the other army wholly against my will; but we shall meet, if we live in the winter." "I wish it could be so, my friend," was my reply; "but still I feel that your good-bye will be a long farewell." And this was the last of John C. Breckenridge. His oath to support the Constitution of the United States, like Hester Prynne's scarlet letter, burns an eternal reproach on the record of the Senator. His sword is with slavery and rebellion.

FREMONT AND VALLANDINGHAM.—The New York Independent says:

Our chief regret in view of the Cleveland Convention is, that it has unhappily led a number of excellent friends of the Good Cause into a snare. The spirit of its leaders has become more apparent since the convention than before. Among respectable American journals, not one in any quarter, seems to us so entirely utpatriotic, bitter, and malignant as The New Nation—Mr. Fremont's special organ, on which, we are told, he has already spent twenty thousand dollars in printing extra copies for gratuitous circulation. "There is so little difference," says the organ, "Between this party," that is, the party formed at Cleveland, and the Democracy," that is, the party to meet at Chicago, "that it would be easy to adopt a common ticket." True! BUT THERE IS TOO MUCH DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY AND THE GREAT UNION PARTY TO ADOPT A COMMON TICKET. Mr. Vallandigham himself is a delegate to Chicago. When Mr. Fremont proposes to sit down with Mr. Vallandigham for the making of a common ticket, it is time for Mr. Fremont's friends of 1856 to rise in a common opposition.

The Presidency in 1861---Acceptance of Mr. Lincoln---Address of the National Union Committee Appointed at Baltimore.

NEW YORK, June 14 1864.

HON. ABRAHAM LINCOLN—Sir:—The National Union Convention, which assembled in Baltimore on June 7, 1864, has instructed us to inform you that you were nominated with enthusiastic unanimity for the Presidency of the United States for four years from the 4th of March next.

The resolutions of the Convention, which we have already had the pleasure of, placing in your hands, are a full and clear statement of the principles which inspired its action, and which, as we believe, the great body of Union men in the country heartily approve. Whether these resolutions express the national gratitude to our soldiers and sailors; or the national scorn of compromise with rebels, and consequent dishonor; or the patriotic duty of, union and success; whether they approve the Proclamation of Emancipation, the constitutional amendment, the employment of former slaves as Union soldiers, or the solemn obligation of the Government promptly to redress the wrongs of every soldier of the Union, of whatever color or race; whether they declare the inviolability of the pledged faith of the nation, or offer the national hospitality to the oppressed of every land, or urge the union by railroad of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans; whether they recommend public economy and vigorous taxation, or assert the fixed popular opposition to the establishment by armed force of foreign monarchies in the immediate neighborhood of the United States, or declare that those only are worthy of official trust who approve unreservedly the views and policy indicated in the resolutions—they were equally hailed with the heartiness of profound conviction.

Believing with you, sir, that this is the people's war, for the maintenance of a Government which you have justly described as "of the people, by the people, for the people," we are very sure that you will be glad to know, not only from the resolutions themselves, but from the singular harmony and enthusiasm with which they were adopted, how warm is the popular welcome of every measure in the prosecution of the war, which is as vigorous, unmistakable and unfaltering as the national purpose itself. No right, for instance, is so precious and sacred to the American heart as that of personal liberty. Its violation is regarded with just, instant and universal jealousy. Yet, in this hour of peril every faithful citizen concedes that, for the sake of national existence and the common welfare, individuals may, as the Constitution provides in case of rebellion, be sometimes summarily constrained, asking only with painful anxiety that in every instance, and to the least detail, that absolutely necessary power shall not be hastily or unwisely exercised.

We believe, Sir, that the honest will of the Union men of the country was never more truly represented than in this convention. Their purpose we believe to be the overthrow of armed rebels in the field, and the security of permanent peace and union by liberty and justice under the Constitution. That these results are to be achieved amid cruel perplexities, they are fully aware. That they are to be reached only through cordial unanimity of counsel, is undeniable. That good men may sometimes differ as to the means and the time they know. That in the conduct of all human affairs the highest duty is to determine in the angry conflict of passion how much good may be practically accomplished, is in their sincere persuasion. They have watched your official course, therefore, with unflagging attention; and amid the bitter taunts of eager friends and the fierce denunciation of enemies, now moving too fast for some, now too slow for others, they have seen you throughout the tremendious contest patient, sagacious, faithful, just, leaning upon the heart of the great mass of the people, and satisfied to be moved by its mighty pulsations.

It is for this reason that, long before the Convention met, the popular instinct had plainly indicated you as its candidate, and the Convention, therefore, merely recorded the popular will. Your character and career prove your unswerving fidelity to the cardinal principles of American liberty and of the American Constitution. In the name of that liberty and Constitution, sir, we earnestly request your acceptance of this nomination; reverently commending our beloved country and you, its Chief Magistrate, with all its brave sons who, on sea and land, are faithfully defending the good old American cause of equal rights, to the blessing of Almighty God.

We are, sir, very respectfully your friends and fellow-citizens.

REPLY OF MR. LINCOLN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, June 27, 1864.

Hon. William Denison and others, a Committee of the National Union Convention.

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter of the 14th inst., formally notifying me that I have been nominated by the Convention you represent for the Presidency of the United States for four years from the 5th of March next has been received. The nomination is gratefully accepted, as the resolutions of the Convention—called the platform—are heartily approved.

While the resolutions of regard to the supplanting of Republican Government upon the Western Continent is fully concurred in, there might be misunderstanding were I not to say that the position of the government in relation to the action of France in Mexico, as assumed through the State Department and indorsed by the Convention, among the measures and acts of the Executive, will be faithfully maintained so long as the state of facts shall leave that position pertinent and applicable.

I am especially gratified that the soldier and the seamen were not forgotten by the convention, and that they forever must and will be remembered by the grateful country for whose salvation they devote their lives.

Thanking you for the kind and complimentary terms in which you have communicated the nomination and other proceedings of the Convention, I subscribe myself, Your obedient servant,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The Mysteries of Menageries.

Not many men can "keep a hotel," but fewer yet, we believe, can keep a menagerie. The undertaking, to be successful, requires a peculiar knowledge which is in the possession of very few. The capital invested in the Van Amburgh collection, the oldest and only complete menagerie in this country, and which many thousands of our citizens have visited, is not less than $150,000. It contains two hundred animals, and employs, when on its travels through the country not less than ninety-four men, and one hundred and thirty-four horses.—When in traveling order the whole collection can move at an average rate of eighteen miles a day, and on a summer tour makes a circuit of not less than three thousand miles. The daily expenses, when travelling, are not under $300. The animals are subject to various diseases; they die, and at such a rate that in the present collection there are but six animals which were in it six years ago. With some few exceptions, the menagerie is entirely renewed once in every five years. The proprietors are constantly purchasing new animals; they have agents in various parts of the world; and the expense of such renewals may be guessed, when we say that the beasts added to the menagerie now on Broadway, since last spring, cost thirty thousand dollars.—To spend sums judiciously, to buy only healthy animals, likely to live, and to keep them in good condition, require experience only gained in many years. Of course the life of a lion, a royal Bengal tiger or a giraffe, cannot be insured. The most eager life insurance company would not take such risks. The finest animal in the collection may die any day, and thousands of dollars are lost.

The price of a lion, or any other animal, varies greatly. Sometimes the lion market is glutted. A fine bengal tiger has been sold in London for two hundred dollars, but the common price for a healthy pair of young lions is thirty-five hundred dollars. The three polar bears now in the Broadway collection, cost the proprietors four thousand dollars. Most of the animals caught for menageries are first taken to England. In London there are two or three animal brokers, who make it their business to receive and sell on commission anything from an elephant to a ring-tailed monkey. The finest giraffe ever brought to this country was caught by an American, who went to Africa for the purpose, and was gone eighteen months on that business. Hannibal, the largest elephant ever exhibited, has been in this country thirty-three years. When he was first brought hither he was bought by an enterprising butcher in the Bowery, who kept him in a horse stable a year before he was exhibited. He was bought on speculation, and the unlucky butcher lost by him. He was afterwards purchased by Van Amburgh, and has been in this collection many years.

Lions and all other animals of the cat kind suffer when imported into this country, from a kind of consumption. They wheeze, lose flesh, their lungs become diseased, and they finally waste away and die. When one of these great beasts die, he is submitted to the faculty, and it is a pleasant evidence that the proprietors are not merely 'showmen,' but have an intelligent interest in these wonders of nature, that they have for many years contributed their defunct specimens to the collection of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences, in whose hall may be found at the present time some skeletons of lions, tigers, and other animals famous in their day.

In the subdivision of labor one man takes charge of four cages, to clean' feed and attend to all the wants of the occupants. The flesh-eating animals are fed but once a day, and not at all on Sundays. The monkeys and other animals are fed twice a day. The elephant seems to browse all day long. None but good beef is fed, and it must not have the slightest grain of salt upon it. Water is given four or five times a day. A full grown lion eats from fifteen to eighteen pounds of meat per day. An elephant's ration are three hundred pounds of hay and two bushels of oats per day when he is travelling, when standing still he gets no oats, but an additional hundred weight of hay.—The elephants lie down when they go to sleep. Two barrels of water moisten each elephant's daily hay.

Not unfrequently animals bring forth young. Some dozens of lions have been born in this country, but only very few live to cut their second set of teeth. There is now in the menagerie a lion of good size, born three or four years ago in Georgia.—He is a very savage animal and only submits to his master who nursed him tenderly when young, and whose voice to this day will quell him when most furious. Lions generally produce three or four at a litter. The two young leopards in the exhibition are from Wisconsin. They are fed only on cooked meat, and occasional rations of beef broth. Until the young are two months old, they cannot be exhibited, on account of the jealousy of the mother, who sometimes kills her young in her frantic efforts to get them out of the way when strangers are staring at them. She will pick them up in her mouth and fling them against the back of the cage to get them out of sight. For this reason, when a lioness or a tigress has a young family, she is shut off from the outer world and kept in wholesome quiet until her nerves acquire some tone, and she is able to receive visitors and exhibit her cubs without too great agitation.—N. Y. Evening Post.

S. D. & H. W. SMITH'S AMERICAN ORGAN.

Among the different inventions originated and perfected by American ingenuity during the past twenty years, few are more surprising than the improvements in musical instruments, especially in reed instruments known as "Reed Organs," Harmoniums and Melodeons. European taste has long seemed to have been satisfied with the Organs of Alexandre and Pleyel, although neither of those instruments afford much real variety of tone, notwithstanding the makers have multiplied stops and sets of reeds, and by consequence the cost, to an extraordinary degree. The American Organ made by S. D. and H. W. Smith, Boston, may safely challenge comparison with either of them, whether as regards variety, power and sweetness of tone or cost. All reed instruments made by the best manufacturers in this country are constructed on the same principle, viz: of drawing the air through the reeds by an exhaustive bellows, instead of forcing it through them by powerful pressure; and the "American Organ" differs from its competitors mainly in three points: 1st, The great care and thoroughness exercised in manufacture; 2d, In the skillful voicing, giving as many different qualities of tone as there are sets of reeds; and 3d, in the use of a reverberating box, which adds materially to the power of the instrument without detriment to its delicacy and sweetness. Any person possessing a musical box can readily appreciate this improvement by setting it while in operation on a mantel or table, and then on a large empty box or barrel, and observing its vastly increased power and richness when in the latter position. In these three points—and they are certainly material ones—is superiority claimed for the American Organs of Messrs. S. D. & H. W. Smith over the reed instruments of other makers. The Messrs. Smith, being the most experienced Reed Organ makers in Boston, (having established themselves in 1852), and having at least equal facilities with any other makers, have always kept themselves familiar with all improvements and inventions in their department, and they confidently assert their "AMERICAN ORGANS" to be unequalled in voicing, and unsurpassed by any, at home or abroad, in purity, sweetness and power of tone. The contrivances for producing varied expression, such as the "treble forte" tremolo and the swell, and the ease with which change of stops may be made, render the American Organ, in skillful hands, capable of as much delicacy of expression and variety of effect as the expensive Harmoniums of Alexandre with their thirteen registers, and while undoubtedly far superior in durability, is sold for less than half the cost. The demand in England for Smith's American Organ is steadily increasing, and is an irrefragable proof that it triumphantly stands the test of competition in their own market with the most celebrated European instruments.

Having a large establishment he is enabled to employ better workmen, do business to better advantage and with more promptness, and offer to customers better inducements for their patronage than can be done at any other mill in the State.

Those who have used the cloths made at this mill, both by myself and agents for the past 12 years can bear witness to their superior quality. If other testimony were needed, the following from the dry goods article in the Chicago Tribune, of November 8th, 1863, might be added:

"The trade in woolen goods is now unusually brisk, and rarely if ever have we seen such a large and varied stock in market. It is noticeable also that the best qualities are of domestic manufacture, and quite a large assortment of Western goods are offered. Some of the best plain cassimeres in market at present are manufactured—not in England nor France—nor even in the Eastern States—but in Wisconsin and in several portions of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The goods sent to our market from the "Stone Mills," Janesville, (as exhibited by their agents, Bowen Bros., of this city,) deserve special mention because of their excellence in every particular, and because we consider it our duty as a journalist to aid and foster home manufactures."

Customers may rely upon having their work done promptly, and from June 15th to Sept. 15th at the following extremely low rates.

TERMS OF EXCHANGE:

For 1¼ lbs. of wool a yard of Jeans, Tweed or Union Cassimere.
For 1¼ lbs. of wool a yard of Satinett or Flannel.

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned are having made at Beloit, Wis., one hundred of those Reapers known as the Cheap, or Webber Reaper!

Notwithstanding the increase of nearly double in price over other years of all materials put in Reapers, we are going to sell for 1864 at about the same prices as before. Our prices at the shop are $110 cash for Single Reaper, for Reaper and Mower $140. We are making Fifty Mowers, which will be warranted to do good work. They will be made of steel bars of the Buckeye pattern, except the blades.

Those buying Reapers alone can have Mowers the next year or thereafter for the same price, as the difference between reaper and mower.

We do not deem it necessary to extol our Reaper, for it is already known to be the only two-horse Reaper in use. Notwithstanding a great many are used with two horses, they ought to use three or four, and some of them six, to be as easy to the horse as ours are to two ordinary horses.

Please send in your orders early to be sure of a machine, as positively only one hundred of them will be built, and we will warrant each and every machine to

Work Well in all Kinds of Grain!

The Reels will be different from last year. They will be the over hanging reel, and have six bats instead of four keeping the reel, holding the grain to the sickle steady.

They will be shipped to any depot in Wisconsin or Illinois. Ten per cent. will be added if sold on time. One half the 1st of September, 1864, the balance the 1st of September, 1865.

Those buying machines will confer a favor by giving this machine publicity in their respective neighborhoods. When material gets to its usual stage we intend to make it a ninety dollar machine, and should have done it but for the unprecedented high prices of everything to construct machines with.

will attend strictly to the repairing of the Webber Reaper. None others wanted. We are prepared to change from chain to belt, put on caster wheels upon short notice. Men will be on hand to repair promptly. Charges light as the cost of material will admit. We shall manufacture none at that place, consequently we will be prepared to repair. Work solicited. ### The Alabama.

Our dispatches yesterday gave some further details of the sinking of the pirate Alabama, and the rascally conduct of her English bottle holders who enabled the Captain to escape being made a prisoner of war by our victorious Kearsage. The manner in which the thing was done is not at all soothing to American nerves, and very much needs, as it will doubtless receive, the attention of the diplomatic pen of Secretary Seward. There is no doubt as to the intention of the English yacht Deerhound. She was crowded with the boon companions of the pirate, Semmes, who had invited them to go out and see the fun of sinking the Kearsage; or, if any thing should happen not exactly set down in their programme, then the crew of the Alabama might be furnished a way of escape. A dinner was prepared in Southampton for Semmes, at which a large amount of secession conviviality would have been let off by the rebels and their English sympathisers, if their pretty little project of sinking the Federal Sloop hadn't miscarried. But Captain Winslow varied the entertainment a little, from that originally set down in the bills, and instead of going to the bottom himself, he determined to send the Alabama there, though the disappointment of our neutral cousins should be great and the dinner at Southampton should be cold and not eaten. The Kearsage is only a third rate sloop-of-war, propelled by a screw and carrying but eight guns; so the morning's sport to which these young bloods were invited did not promise (as they thought) to be of very long duration. It lasted long enough, however, to see their favorite ship go to the bottom and her captain escape through their timely intervention. And when we remember that the Alabama was an English built ship, and her crew consisted mostly of English men, we can imagine the chargin and mortification which Johnny Bull must naturally feel at the result.

As for the escaped captain of the Alabama, he promises to be at sea again in a few months with a swifter and better vessel than the one just lost, to burn our ships and prey upon our commerce. He probably expects that the same honest neutrality which subscribes liberal sums in Liverpool and London to purchase him a sword, will also furnish him with a ship and her armament.

In the meantime, we will continue to furnish a home for English paupers, and send ship loads of provisions to keep from perishing the starving operatives of Manchester!

Forney's Farewell with Breckenridge.

Mr. Forney of the Philadelphia Press, thus speaks of his last interview with John C. Breckenridge:—

It was on the evening of the 6th of August, 1861, being the last day of the memorable called session which was assembled on the 4th of July of that year, by Presidental proclamation. Widely as we had differed, our personal relations were unchanged. He knew how sincerely grieved I was when, as early as 1858, he allowed Mr. Buchanan and the extreme South to force him into the support of Lecompton, and how reluctantly in the black and bitter years that succeeded, I felt constrained to denounce him. In the called session he had led the opposition to Mr. Lincoln with vehement, unjust and unsparing ability. And now he was going to Kentucky. "Good bye," he said; "Good bye," "No," I said, "not Good bye, Breckenridge, but farewell. You will never again take your seat in the United States Senate." He seemed to be surprised, as he said: "What do you mean? I will undoubtedly return to my post in December." "No, my dear sir, you will follow your doctrine into the Confederate army; you will go there to show that you are with the enemies of your country." To which he answered, and when he spoke the words I think he was honest: "If I go over the lines it will be to bring back with me my runaway son, Cabell, who has gone into the other army wholly against my will; but we shall meet, if we live in the winter." "I wish it could be so, my friend," was my reply; "but still I feel that your good-bye will be a long farewell." And this was the last of John C. Breckenridge. His oath to support the Constitution of the United States, like Hester Prynne's scarlet letter, burns an eternal reproach on the record of the Senator. His sword is with slavery and rebellion.

FREMONT AND VALLANDINGHAM.—The New York Independent says:

Our chief regret in view of the Cleveland Convention is, that it has unhappily led a number of excellent friends of the Good Cause into a snare. The spirit of its leaders has become more apparent since the convention than before. Among respectable American journals, not one in any quarter, seems to us so entirely unpatriotic, bitter, and malignant as The New Nation—Mr. Fremont's special organ,—on which, we are told, he has already spent twenty thousand dollars in printing extra copies for gratuitous circulation. "There is so little difference," says the organ, "Between this party," that is, the party formed at Cleveland, and the Democracy," that is, the party to meet at Chicago, "that it would be easy to adopt a common ticket." True! BUT THERE IS TOO MUCH DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY AND THE GREAT UNION PARTY TO ADOPT A COMMON TICKET. Mr. Vallandigham himself is a delegate to Chicago. When Mr. Fremont proposes to sit down with Mr. Vallandigham for the making of a common ticket, it is time for Mr. Fremont's friends of 1856 to rise in a common opposition.

The Presidency in 1864---Acceptance of Mr. Lincoln---Address of the National Union Committee Appointed at Baltimore.

NEW YORK, June 14 1864.

HON. ABRAHAM LINCOLN—Sir:—The National Union Convention, which assembled in Baltimore on June 7, 1864, has instructed us to inform you that you were nominated with enthusiastic unanimity for the Presidency of the United States for four years from the 4th of March next.

The resolutions of the Convention, which we have already had the pleasure of placing in your hands, are a full and clear statement of the principles which inspired its action, and which, as we believe, the great body of Union men in the country heartily approve. Whether those resolutions express the national gratitude to our soldiers and sailors; or the national scorn of compromise with rebels, and consequent dishonor; or the patriotic duty of union and success; whether they approve the Proclamation of Emancipation, the constitutional amendment, the employment of former slaves as Union soldiers, or the solemn obligation of the Government promptly to redress the wrongs of every soldier of the Union, of whatever color or race; whether they declare the inviolability of the pledged faith of the nation, or offer the national hospitality to the oppressed of every land, or urge the union by railroad of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans; whether they recommend public economy and vigorous taxation, or assert the fixed popular opposition to the establishment by armed force of foreign monarchies in the immediate neighborhood of the United States, or declare that those only are worthy of official trust who approve unreservedly the views and policy indicated in the resolutions—they were equally hailed with the heartiness of profound conviction.

Believing with you, sir, that this is the people's war, for the maintenance of a Government which you have justly described as "of the people, by the people, for the people," we are very sure that you will be glad to know, not only from the resolutions themselves, but from the singular harmony and enthusiasm with which they were adopted, how warm is the popular welcome of every measure in the prosecution of the war, which is as vigorous, as unmistakable and unfaltering as the national purpose itself. No right, for instance, is so precious and sacred to the American heart as that of personal liberty. Its violation is regarded with just, instant and universal jealousy. Yet, in this hour of peril every faithful citizen concedes that, for the sake of national existence and the common welfare, individuals may, as the Constitution provides in case of rebellion, be sometimes summarily constrained, asking only with painful anxiety that in every instance, and to the least detail, that absolutely necessary power shall not be hastily or unwisely exercised.

We believe, Sir, that the honest will of the Union men of the country was never more truly represented than in this convention. Their purpose we believe to be the overthrow of armed rebels in the field, and the security of permanent peace and union by liberty and justice under the Constitution. That these results are to be achieved amid cruel perplexities, they are fully aware. That they are to be reached only through cordial unanimity of counsel, is undeniable. That good men may sometimes differ as to the means and the time they know. That in the conduct of all human affairs the highest duty is to determine in the angry conflict of passion how much good may be practically accomplished, is in their sincere persuasion. They have watched your official course, therefore, with unflagging attention; and amid the bitter taunts of eager friends and the fierce denunciation of enemies, now moving too fast for some, now too slow for others, they have seen you throughout the tremendious contest patient, sagacious, faithful, just, leaning upon the heart of the great mass of the people, and satisfied to be moved by its mighty pulsations.

It is for this reason that, long before the Convention met, the popular instinct had plainly indicated you as its candidate, and the Convention, therefore, merely recorded the popular will. Your character and career prove your unswerving fidelity to the cardinal principles of American liberty and of the American Constitution. In the name of that liberty and Constitution, sir, we earnestly request your acceptance of this nomination: reverently commending our beloved country and you, its Chief Magistrate, with all its brave sons who, on sea and land, are faithfully defending the good old American cause of equal rights, to the blessing of Almighty God.

We are, sir, very respectfully your friends and fellow-citizens.

REPLY OF MR. LINCOLN.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, June 27, 1864.

Hon. William Denison and others, a Committee of the National Union Convention.

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter of the 14th inst., formally notifying me that I have been nominated by the Convention you represent for the Presidency of the United States for four years from the 5th of March next has been received. The nomination is gratefully accepted, as the resolutions of the Convention—called the platform—are heartily approved.

While the resolutions of regard to the supplanting of Republican Government upon the Western Continent is fully concurred in, there might be misunderstanding were I not to say that the position of the government in relation to the action of France in Mexico, as assumed through the State Department and indorsed by the Convention, among the measures and acts of the Executive, will be faithfully maintained so long as the state of facts shall leave that position pertinent and applicable.

I am especially gratified that the soldier and the seamen were not forgotten by the convention, and that they forever must and will be remembered by the grateful country for whose salvation they devote their lives.

Thanking you for the kind and complimentary terms in which you have communicated the nomination and other proceedings of the Convention, I subscribe myself, Your obedient servant.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The Mysteries of Menageries.

Not many men can "keep a hotel," but fewer yet, we believe, can keep a menagerie. The undertaking, to be successful, requires a peculiar knowledge which is in the possession of very few. The capital invested in the Van Amburgh collection, the oldest and only complete menagerie in this country, and which many thousands of our citizens have visited, is not less than $150,000. It contains two hundred animals, and employs, when on its travels through the country not less than ninety-four men, and one hundred and thirty-four horses.—When in traveling order the whole collection can move at an average rate of eighteen miles a day, and on a summer tour makes a circuit of not less than three thousand miles. The daily expenses, when travelling, are not under $500. The animals are subject to various diseases; they die, and at such a rate that in the present collection there are but six animals which were in it six years ago. With some few exceptions, the menagerie is entirely renewed once in every five years. The proprietors are constantly purchasing new animals; they have agents in various parts of the world; and the expense of such renewals may be guessed, when we say that the beasts added to the menagerie now on Broadway, since last spring, cost thirty thousand dollars.—To spend sums judiciously, to buy only healthy animals, likely to live, and to keep them in good condition, require experience only gained in many years. Of course the life of a lion, a royal Bengal tiger or a giraffe, cannot be insured. The most eager life insurance company would not take such risks. The finest animal in the collection may die any day, and thousands of dollars are lost.

The price of a lion, or any other animal, varies greatly. Sometimes the lion market is glutted. A fine bengal tigor has been sold in London for two hundred dollars, but the common price for a healthy pair of young lions is thirty-five hundred dollars. The three polar bears now in the Broadway collection, cost the proprietors four thousand dollars. Most of the animals caught for menageries are first taken to England. In London there are two or three animal brokers, who make it their business to receive and sell on commission anything from an elephant to a ring-tailed monkey. The finest giraffe ever brought to this country was caught by an American, who went to Africa for the purpose, and was gone eighteen months on that business. Hannibal, the largest elephant ever exhibited, has been in this country thirty-three years. When he was first brought hither he was bought by an enterprising butcher in the Bowery, who kept him in a horse stable a year before he was exhibited. He was bought on speculation, and the unlucky butcher lost by him. He was afterwards purchased by Van Amburgh, and has been in this collection many years.

Lions and all other animals of the cat kind suffer when imported into this country from a kind of consumption. They wheeze, lose flesh, their lungs become diseased, and they finally waste away and die. When one of these great beasts die, he is submitted to the faculty, and it is a pleasant evidence that the proprietors are not merely 'showmen,' but have an intelligent interest in these wonders of nature, that they have for many years contributed their defunct specimens to the collection of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences, in whose hall may be found at the present time some skeletons of lions, tigers, and other animals famous in their day.

In the subdivision of labor one man takes charge of four cages, to clean feed and attend to all the wants of the occupants. The flesh-eating animals are fed but once a day, and not at all on Sundays. The monkeys and other animals are fed twice a day. The elephant seems to browse all day long. None but good beef is fed, and it must not have the slightest grain of salt upon it. Water is given four or five times a day. A full grown lion eats from fifteen to eighteen pounds of meat per day. An elephant's ration are three hundred pounds of hay and two bushels of oats per day when he is travelling, when standing still he gets no oats, but an additional hundred weight of hay.—The elephants lie down when they go to sleep. Two barrels of water moisten each elephant's daily hay.

Not unfrequently animals bring forth young. Some dozens of lions have been born in this country, but only very few live to cut their second set of teeth. There is now in the menagerie a lion of good size, born three or four years ago in Georgia.—He is a very savage animal and only submits to his master who nursed him tenderly when young, and whose voice to this day will quell him when most furious. Lions generally produce three or four at a litter. The two young leopards in the exhibition are from Wisconsin. They are fed only on cooked meat, and occasional rations of beef broth. Until the young are two months old, they cannot be exhibited, on account of the jealousy of the mother, who sometimes kills her young in her frantic efforts to get them out of the way when strangers are staring at them. She will pick them up in her mouth and fling them against the back of the cage to get them out of sight. For this reason, when a lioness or a tigress has a young family, she is shut off from the outer world and kept in wholesome quiet until her nerves acquire some tone, and she is able to receive visitors and exhibit her cubs without too great agitation.—N. Y. Evening Post.

S. D. & H. W. SMITH'S AMERICAN ORGAN.

Among the different inventions originated and perfected by American ingenuity during the past twenty years, few are more surprising than the improvements in musical instruments, especially in reed instruments known as "Reed Organs," Harmoniums and Melodeons. European taste has long seemed to have been satisfied with the Organs of Alexandre and Ployel, although neither of those instruments afford much real variety of tone, notwithstanding the makers have multiplied stops and sets of reeds, and by consequence the cost, to an extraordinary degree. The American Organ made by S. D. and H. W. Smith, Boston, may safely challenge comparison with either of them, whether as regards variety, power and sweetness of tone or cost. All reed instruments made by the best manufacturers in this country are constructed on the same principle, viz: of drawing the air through the reeds by an exhaustive bellows, instead of forcing it through them by powerful pressure; and the "American Organ" differs from its competitors mainly in three points: 1st, The great care and thoroughness exercised in manufacture; 2d, In the skillful voicing, giving as many different qualities of tone as there are sets of reeds; and 3d, in the use of a reverberating box, which adds materially to the power of the instrument without detriment to its delicacy and sweetness. Any person possessing a musical box can readily appreciate this improvement by setting it while in operation on a mantel or table, and then on a large empty box or barrel, and observing its vastly increased power and richness when in the latter position. In these three points—and they are certainly material ones—is superiority claimed for the American Organs of Messrs. S. D. & H. W. Smith over the reed instruments of other makers. The Messrs. Smith, being the most experienced Reed Organ makers in Boston, (having established themselves in 1852), and having at least equal facilities with any other makers, have always kept themselves familiar with all improvements and inventions in their department, and they confidently assert their "AMERICAN ORGANS" to be unequalled in voicing, and unsurpassed by any, at home or abroad, in purity, sweetness and power of tone. The contrivances for producing varied expression, such as the "treble forte" tremolo and the swell, and the ease with which change of stops may be made, render the American Organ, in skillful hands, capable of as much delicacy of expression and variety of effect as the expensive Harmoniums of Alexandre with their thirteen registers, and while undoubtedly far superior in durability, is sold for less than half the cost. The demand in England for Smith's American Organ is steadily increasing, and is an irrefragable proof that it triumphantly stands the test of competition in their own market with the most celebrated European instruments.

Having a large establishment he is enabled to employ better workmen, do business to better advantage and with more promptness, and offer to customers better inducements for their patronage than can be done at any other mill in the State.

Those who have used the cloths made at this mill, both by myself and tenants for the past 12 years can bear witness to their superior quality. If other testimony were needed, the following from the dry goods article in the Chicago Tribune, of November 4th, 1863, might be added:

"The trade in woolen goods is now unusually brisk, and rarely if ever have we seen such a large and varied stock in market. It is noticeable also that the best qualities are of domestic manufacture, and quite a large assortment of Western goods are offered. Some of the best plain cassimeres in market at present are manufactured—not in England nor France—nor even in the Eastern States—but in Wisconsin and in several portions of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The goods sent to our market from the "Stone Mills," Janesville, (as exhibited by their agents, Bowen Bros., of this city,) deserve special mention because of their excellence in every particular, and because we consider it our duty as a journalist to aid and foster home manufactures."

Customers may rely upon having their work done promptly, and from June 15th to Sept. 15th at the following extremely low rates.

TERMS OF EXCHANGE:

For 1¼ lbs. of wool a yard of Jeans, Tweed or Union Cassimere.
For 1¾ lbs. of wool a yard of Satinett or Flannel.

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned are having made at Beloit, Wis., one hundred of those Reapers known as the Cheap, or Webber Reaper!

Notwithstanding the increase of nearly double in price over other years of all materials put in Reapers, we are going to sell for 1864 at about the same prices as before. Our prices at the shop are $110 cash for single Reaper, for Reaper and Mower $140. We are making Fifty Mowers, which will be warranted to do good work. They will be made of steel bars of the Buckeye pattern, except the hinges.

Those buying Reapers alone can have Mowers the next year or thereafter for the same price, as the difference between reaper and mower.

We do not deem it necessary to extol our Reaper, for it is already known to be the only two-horse Reaper in use. Notwithstanding a great many are used with two horses, they ought to use three or four, and some of them six, to be as easy to the horse as ours are to two ordinary horses.

Please send in your orders early to be sure of a machine, as positively only one hundred of them will be built, and we will warrant each and every machine to

Work Well in all Kinds of Grain!

The Reels will be different from last year. They will be the over hanging reel, and have six bats instead of four keeping the reel, holding the grain to the sickle steady.

They will be shipped to any depot in Wisconsin or Illinois. Ten per cent. will be added if sold on time. One half the 1st of September, 1864, the balance the 1st of September, 1865.

Those buying machines will confer a favor by giving this machine publicity in their respective neighborhoods. When material gets to its usual stage we intend to make it a ninety dollar machine, and should have done it but for the unprecedented high prices of everything to construct machines with.

The Reaper Shop at Afton!

will attend strictly to the repairing of the Webber Reaper. None others wanted. We are prepared to change from chain to belt, put on caster wheels upon short notice. Men will be on hand to repair promptly. Charges light as the cost of material will admit. We shall manufacture none at that place, consequently we will be prepared to repair. Work solicited. ## Governor Bramlette's Letter to Governor Morton.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, June 23d, 1864.

Governor O. P. Morton, Indianapolis, Ind.:

DEAR SIR:—I return you my most grateful thanks for your prompt assistance during Morgan's recent raid. The timely arrival of the 43d Regiment Indiana Volunteers gave us entire relief against all apprehensions of danger. Although the citizens had repulsed the rebels, yet the large numbers still infesting this section at the time of their arrival, kept us upon constant vigil, and serious apprehension of another assault.

The patriotism and kindly feeling which prompted the gallant veterans of the 43d to rush to our relief without delaying, after their long and arduous labors, to even greet their families, deserves the highest commendation of their countrymen, and will ever command from us of Kentucky the profoundest gratitude of our hearts.

The appearance of Vallandigham in Ohio, simultaneously with Morgan's raid in Kentucky, fully confirms the matters made known to me, through General Lindsey by you.

The defeat of Morgan has frustrated their movement for the present; but vigilance in the future must still guard us against those machinations of evil doers.

Yours truly, THOS. E. BRAMLETTE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (chrystalline,) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments, my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE

Over the Post Office!

There is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE

COMPANY!

Who take pleasure in placing their machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make and have all the advantages of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a letter stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic cures all diseases of the urinary organs.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gleet, Gonorrhea, Fluor Albus, Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

☞ Price, Cherokee Remedy, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Governor Bramlette's Letter to Governor Morton.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
FRANKFORT, June 23d, 1864.

Governor O. P. Morton, Indianapolis, Ind.:

DEAR SIR:—I return you my most grateful thanks for your prompt assistance during Morgan's recent raid. The timely arrival of the 43d Regiment Indiana Volunteers gave us entire relief against all apprehensions of danger. Although the citizens had repulsed the rebels, yet the large numbers still infesting this section at the time of their arrival, kept us upon constant vigil, and serious apprehension of another assault.

The patriotism and kindly feeling which prompted the gallant veterans of the 43d to rush to our relief without delaying, after their long and arduous labors, to even greet their families, deserves the highest commendation of their countrymen, and will ever command from us of Kentucky the profoundest gratitude of our hearts.

The appearance of Vallandigham in Ohio, simultaneously with Morgan's raid in Kentucky, fully confirms the matters made known to me, through General Lindsey by you.

The defeat of Morgan has frustrated their movement for the present; but vigilance in the future must still guard us against those machinations of evil doers.

Yours truly, THOS. E. BRAMLETTE.

STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors of this justly esteemed and well-known brand of Stomach Bitters, do not deem it necessary, in order to give their goods a fictitious, or even an enhanced value, to take a fling at all other Bitters, and proclaim in small capitals that they are worthless. Our Bitters do not need this, as we place them before the public on their merits, and invite your careful attention to the goods we allow our brand upon, knowing as we do so, that our reputation is at stake. The name, "Red Jacket," is taken from the original compound by the native child of the forest, and with the addition of a few herbs by Dr. Chapin, made more agreeable to the taste, they have now a peculiarly healthy, soothing and recuperative influence, especially for the patient rising from the bed of sickness, loss of appetite, distress after eating, dizziness, and all diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Indigestion.

They strengthen and invigorate the system.
They are unequaled for general debility.
They are a sure cure for dyspepsia.
They give a good and healthy appetite.
They assist digestion.
They are the best stimulant in existence.
They are a sure preventive of fever and Ague.
They relieve constipation.
They cure Nervous Headache.
They are perfectly pure and palatable.
They make the debilitated strong, and restore to strength the exhausted.

Aged persons and delicate females will find they can save large doctor's bills by the use of these Bitters.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (chrystaline,) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers."

Patent Medicines.

Good News for the Unfortunate!

THE LONG SOUGHT FOR

DISCOVERED AT LAST.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION!

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic cures all diseases of the urinary organs.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gleet, Gonorrhea, Fluor Albus. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

Price, Cherokee Remedy, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.
